

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECK

New York and Atlanta Express Almost Demolished on a High Trestle.

ONLY A TRAMP KILLED

The Passengers Imprisoned for Hours in Two Pullmans Suspended Over the Chasm.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 12.— Southern Railway train No. 20, known as the New York and Atlanta express, was totally wrecked about midnight last night at Rockfish, twenty-three miles south of this city. Though every car left the track and was partly demolished and splintered; there was no loss of life among the passengers, though their escape was most miraculous. One colored tramp, who was riding on top of a Pullman, was killed.

The train, consisting of six cars—baggage, express, first-class coach, one Pullman and a sunset route tourist sleeper, from Washington to San Francisco—left Washington at 7:10 o'clock last evening, passing Charlottesville promptly on schedule. Just in front of the station at Rockfish one of the driving rods on the engine broke.

ON TO THE TRESTLE.
Before the engineer could apply the air-brakes the train had dashed on the sixty-five-foot trestle, spanning Rockfish River, about 200 yards beyond the depot. With an awful grinding sound, the train broke into three sections, due no doubt to the sudden application of the brakes.
The engine and tender, after crossing the trestle, ran for a distance of 600 feet and then toppled over. The engine and tender, with the Pullmans, and the tourist sleeper, jumped the track just after crossing the bridge. The tourist car and the two Pullmans were wrecked in the center of the high trestle, the "Rossian" sliding from its trucks and crashing through the ties. The engine and tender, which met almost the same fate, were caught by the steel stringers and held suspended at an angle of about thirty-three degrees. The concussion threw many of the passengers from their berths, but none sustained injuries.

IN SUSPENSION.
The twenty-one occupants of the two Pullmans were forced to remain prisoners until 4:30 o'clock A. M., when a wrecking force arrived and constructed a ladder for them to descend.

Among the passengers who were brought back to this city this morning were: Miss Eva Snyder, of Washington; A. H. Miller, of Philadelphia; W. N. Boyden, of Selma, Ala.; W. T. Gentry, of Atlanta, Ga.; T.
McDonald, of Philadelphia; Judge Charles Godshaw, of Atlanta, Ga.; M. A. Bland, of Baltimore, Md.; Captain W. C. Bennett, United States army, Atlanta, Ga.; R. G. Treat, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. A. C.
Gushert, Todd Russell and George E.
Clifford, of New York; A. J. Strauss, Mrs. W. S. Naylor and two servants, of Baltimore, and Mr. E. T. Shirley, and wife, of Atlanta, the former of whom is private secretary to Congressman Hardwick, of the Tenth Georgia District.

Had the bridge not been a splendid steel structure, the loss of life would have been appalling. As it is, the first pier was almost demolished, and it will require at least forty-eight hours for the repairs to be made.

that she will prove acceptable to the government.

Burk's Clothes ARE GOOD CLOTHES.

It is easy enough to press shape into the poorest kind of clothing so that it will look well and sell on its appearance, but that is not the kind of clothing we make and sell—it is not the kind that gives satisfaction to the wearer or that builds up trade for a house.

Wear one of our Suits, and, though you may know little of the details of clothing construction, still you are bound to appreciate its shape-retaining features. No other ready-to-wear clothing will give such complete satisfaction.

LIZZIE'S NAME IS DENNIS NOW

From a Runaway Couple.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

name is Dennis; the telegram Mrs.
Walter Smith this afternoon received concerning her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Smith, who this afternoon was married in Elizabeth City, N. C., to Clyde A. Dennis, discount clerk of the Bank of Sul-folk. The bride is just seventeen years old, but is quite small for her age, and the wedding was a great surprise to relatives.

The couple to-day were members of an excursion party run from here to Elizabeth City as a benefit for the Tom Smith Camp of Confederate Veterans.
They decided to wed before returning.
Willie H. Butler and Miss Claudia Butler, also excursionists, acted as bridal attendants.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Young Man in Halifax County Has Rare Experience.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SCOTTSBURG, VA., May 12.—Mr. Chas.
Tartan, a young man of eighteen years, on last Monday evening rushed to the stable, where he had his horse, and the horse and rider were struck by lightning.
The horse was killed, and the rider was struck on the back in the region of the right shoulder blade, the current passing onward and outward over the left hip and down the leg, burning the clothing at different places and making a large hole in the bottom of the shoe in its outward exit, leaving another deep burn in the flesh below the knee about four by six inches in size.

The current then struck a piece of wood and melted the ends of some nails that were in the way, and passed onward without further harm to the man.
The young man suffered from the shock and burns, but can walk about and otherwise than described seems to be un-harm.

STEAMER AGROUND.

Twelve Tramps Put to Work on the Chain Gang.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FRIDELAND, VA., May 12.—The steamer Caroline, bound for this city, from the lower Rappahannock, went aground yesterday near Tappahannock.
The steamer from Baltimore, bound for this city, pulled her off and as the Caroline was then so much behind, her passengers and freight were transferred to the Baltimore steamer, and the Caroline went back to Urbanna and will make her regular trip up the river to-morrow.

Twelve tramps were arrested here last night and were to-day fined $2.75 each by Mayor Willis for vagrancy. They could not pay the fine and were sent to the chain gang to work on the streets.

bian Peanut Company last night decided to build a $35,000 peanut factory in Sul-folk, this being the sixth peanut plant and making secure the contention that Suffolk is the biggest peanut market on earth.

When the factory people threatened to build in Norfolk, the Council had a special meeting and rescinded recent action denying asked for privileges.

Most of the Columbian Company's stock is owned in Washington.

GRAND JURY AFTER THE COCK-FIGHTERS

Another Big Main to be Pulled Off in the Mountains.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, VA., May 12.—The big cocking main, which took place last Saturday at Burkettown, this county, has created a considerable stir in the county and city, and it is rumored that a special grand jury will be summoned for the purpose of indicting those participating in the fight. The latest information is to the effect that the fight was pulled off in a large barn owned by a Presbyterian deacon, who after the fight, furnished luncheon to the assembled multitude. The fight principally was between Harrisonburg and Richmond chickens, and the largest gathering of sports that ever witnessed a cocking main in this neighborhood was present.

It is said that over a thousand dollars changed hands on the fight, and that a considerable amount is now tied up in the hands of the stakeholders who are holding the money because of the protest against the decision in the last fight, wherein a dead bird was declared the winner.

Very likely that another fight, probably still larger than the Burkettown main, will soon take place between the same sports in the recesses of the Alleghenies, the exact place being known only to those participating.

STOP BALL PLAYING.

The Knitting Mill at Work After Five Months' Suspension.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., May 12.—The City Council last night adopted an ordinance prohibiting the playing of ball on the courthouse and palace grounds, except by the children of Nicholson and Matty schools during school terms. The crowds of idle negro boys and young men that gather on the green every afternoon, have been a source of great annoyance to the adjacent property owners and also to pedestrians passing along the adjoining thoroughfares, and the action of the Council in prohibiting it is highly commended.

The knitting mill has resumed operations after being idle for nearly five months. The new machinery for the carding and spinning department is being placed in position in the new addition being built for the purpose. In a short time the mill will be working a much larger force than formerly.

Captain E. W. Maynard gave an oyster roast to a number of his friends at his residence on York River yesterday. Those present from Williamsburg were: H. G.
Spencer, R. G. Barlow, R. L. Spencer, Peachy, H. N. Phillips and T. B. Mahone.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
In to-day's primary, George W. Oliver was the Democratic nominee for mayor, defeating Dr. Hugh T. Nelson by forty-two majority. Each candidate carried two wards. The present mayor, J. Sam'l McCue, was not a candidate for re-election.

There was quite an upheaval in the personnel of the council, only four of the old members—L. W. Graves, A. D. Payne, Henry D. Jarman and J. M. Murphy being returned. The new members of the body are Judge R. T. W. Duke, William F. Long, Dr. Charles S. Venable, Fred.

Harrison, Archie D. Dabney and R. W.
Holsinger.

fore the other inhabitants of the house

MAYOR JONES RENOMINATED

Dr. John M. Pleasants Carried Four Out of Six Wards.

SMALL VOTE WAS POLLED

Nomination Equivalent to Election Except in the Sixth Ward.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., May 12.—Mayor W.
M. Jones was nominated to-day for re-election as Mayor of the city of Petersburg by a majority of 8 over ex-Mayor Dr. John M. Pleasants, out of a total vote of 1,114. Mayor Jones carried Second and Third Wards, and Dr. Pleasants carried the other four wards of the city, receiving a majority of 80 in Fifth, the largest majority given either candidate in any ward.

The primary to-day was the quietest of any held in this city for many years.
There were only about half of the usual number of voters qualified to take part in the primary, and of this number about three-fourths went to the polls.

SITUATION SIMPLIFIED.
The new Constitution eliminated many of the uncertain voters, so that the candidates had less work in their canvass.
The total vote of the city by wards is as follows:

First—Jones 55, Pleasants 50.
Second—Jones 138, Pleasants 92.
Third—Jones 138, Pleasants 85.
Fourth—Jones 121, Pleasants 123.
Fifth—Jones 85, Pleasants 123.
Sixth—Jones 33, Pleasants 57.

grave, A. M. Smith, W. L. Ennis, NEGROES TO RUN.

The nomination at the primary has been decided in favor of the negroes.
The Democrats have controlled the city, but it would not seem that the election of councilmen from the Sixth Ward is assured, as this ward is composed largely of negroes, and it is said they purpose nominating candidates of their own for the Council from that ward.

At the approaching term of the Circuit Court of Prince George Claude Nichols, a negro from Appomattox county, employed as cook for a gang of workmen engaged in rebuilding the Norfolk and Western Company's wharf at City Point, is to be tried for the murder of one of the white men of the gang by shooting.

While the victim was still alive and groaning with pain his body was rolled from the wharf into the water. The murder was committed Saturday night last, and the body was not recovered until the following Monday morning. The negro was arrested in his flight to this city, and the evidence against him is strong.

NEW CASHIER.

Mr. Walter Sparklin, of Lewes, Del., having been elected cashier of the Petersburg Banking and Trust Company, vice Mr. J. Spratt, resigned, entered upon the discharge of his duties to-day.
Mr. Sparklin had been the cashier of the National Bank of Lewes, Del., since its organization, and was its cashier up to the time he resigned to accept the position with the Petersburg Banking and Trust Company.

Appomattox Commandery, No. 6, night at 8 o'clock. Sir Knight Rev. S. C.

Hatcher delivered the address.

SHUCK HOUSE BURNS.

The frame shuck storage house in Blandford, belonging to Mr. J. H.
Camp, was burned this morning about 1 o'clock. The mattress factory, across the street from the storage house, was not damaged. The house, owing to the combustible nature of its contents, was almost entirely consumed, when the department arrived. Mr. Camp's loss was covered by insurance.

Miss Tiny Taylor has resigned as leader of the choir at First Baptist Church, a position she has held many years.

The revival meetings, which had been in progress at High Street Church for three weeks, closed last night.
Miss Helen O'Ferrall, daughter of ex-Governor O'Ferrall, is visiting friends in the city.

for an alleged criminal assault, on a white woman, the daughter of a prominent farmer. The negro, it is charged, entered the girls' room three nights ago, cloaked her and committed the crime before the other inhabitants of the house knew of her danger. The negro escaped, but was tracked and placed under arrest.

FIX TO WATCH EACH OTHER

Three Judges and Four Detectives at Each Precinct to Prevent Fraud.

RED MEN IN BIG PARADE

Henry Myers, Son of Major A.
Myers, Shot Himself Through Head—Accidental Theory.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., May 12.—The City Democratic Committee to-night formulated plans for the municipal primary.
There will be three judges inside and four watchers. The watchers will be evenly divided by factions and the Day people will have two of the judges, one of whom will act as clerk.

The city electoral board will select six names for each precinct from which the committee will pick one outside man to assist voters.

SHOT THROUGH HEAD.

Henry Myers, son of Major A. Myers, shot himself through the head to-night at his home, Olney Road and Colonial Avenue, with a pistol. His condition is serious. Mr. Myers had participated in the Templar's Ascension Day celebration and had just returned home when the accident occurred. The accident theory is advanced by his family.

BIG INJUNS.

Six hundred members of the Improved Order of Red Men to-night celebrated St.
Tammany's Day by a big parade in costume. Two hundred were mounted and there were several floats.

TO BECOME AN EDITOR

out experience for his new duties and may be expected to win high reputation as author and editor. He has already written much editorial work for Richmond and New York publishers and during the present year two books have appeared with his name on the title page. These books, "Makers of Virginia History," by J. A.
C. Chandler, and "Makers of American History," by J. A. C. Chandler and O.
P. Chittwood, have already been widely adopted for use in public schools. They are most attractive histories of Virginia and of the United States, presented in the form of biographical sketches. These books seem to have much to do with Dr. Chandler's present action. They were prepared for Silver, Burdett & Co., and ever since their publication, this well-known firm has been urging the brilliant young author to relinquish his profession and to accept the chief position in their offices. At first he refused, but when the inducements were multiplied, and the salary was paid by the college, he decided to go. He has no doubts about his literary work and release from the classroom will afford leisure for further ventures in authorship.

Pays Eloquent Tribute.

When asked for a statement about the resignation, President Boatwright said that he had received it with profound regret. "Professor Chandler," he said, "is one of the strongest men in our faculty and one of the best beloved. His scholarship is broad and accurate. As a man, he is as true to his students, and knows how to stir youthful enthusiasm. He is a man of winsome personality, makes friends easily, and is to-day one of the three or four best known educators in Virginia. His work at the State College, where he was both professor and dean, at the Richmond Academy, in the Virginia Schools of Methods, in the Virginia Historical Society, on the State Library Board, and as lecturer and author, as well as his work in the College, have made him well known in Virginia and the South. The vacancy he leaves in college and academy will be hard to fill and the loss to the general educational interests of the State will hardly be less than to these institutions.
I shall miss him exceedingly, for Dr.
Chandler has ever proved a wise counsellor and a joyous burden bearer in every forward movement at Richmond College. We should also miss his family, for he and his charming wife have made their home a center of social interest in the college community."

The trustees of Richmond College meet June 14th, and at that time Dr. Chan-der's resignation will be presented. It will, of necessity, be accepted and steps will be taken at once to supply the vacancy. As President Boatwright says, his departure from Richmond will everywhere be felt as a great loss.

was greatly enjoyed by all present. The
